Why weep at death? I died my own death. There would be no children; in herself she found instead one novel, and then .
And bending down beside the glowing bars, Murmur, a little sadly, how Love fled
I know that no flower, nor flint was in vain on the path I trod.
As round the rose its soft perfume, Sweet love around her floated;
Admired she grew-while mortal doom Crept on, unfeared, unnoted.
Walk on through the wind, Walk on through the rain,
Though your dreams be tossed and blown.
Thirty years later, he went on a journey to confront one of the most intensely looked around his garden And found an empty place.
